

PACKING SALESMEN
SCORED BY LANDIS

Who Have Any Money Must Pay
Up for Defaulting of Investors in Consumers Company.

SARCASTIC AND DELENTLESS

Savings Demanded and Installment
Plan Is Permitted to Make Good
Sums to Widows and Sums to Holders.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—Judge Landis drove to recover money for defaulting investors who bought stock of the Consumers Packing company estimated today with a perturbed lot of stock salesmen and subalterns at the court. The judge was alternately sarcastic, scornful, and at times impatient. It didn't matter whether the agent would accept his commission, the court would accept anything that was left, or could be turned over to him. He was not going to installment payments, as in the case of John Market, janitor.

Market, it appeared, was a janitor who was acquainted with a widowed mother, Mrs. Kate Schmidt, and as a janitor, Market permitted her to invest her entire savings of $100 in the company. Judge Landis ordered the janitor to return the money to the widow.

Harry Cohen, a salesman, who was in court yesterday, but demurred at returning $1,200 which was the price of stock he sold, was again in court today. The court had directed that his wife come, too, but she was not present.

"When I told her you wanted her in court today, she made her sick," said Cohen.

"I am convinced now that the company was a fake, judge," said Cohen, bitterly.

Now comes Mr. Cohen, voluntarily, and offers to let go of this money. The court accepted it.

Myron W. Wolf, whose commission amounted to $612, wanted to compromise with the court.

"What property have you, any?" asked the judge.

"I have only $200 cash, $150 in bonds and $125 in stock," said Wolf.

"I'll take it all," said the judge.

"Why, goodness gracious, that's more than I've got," said the court.

"Sit down and think it over. We want it all."

PRUSSIAN FACTIONS FORM
UNION AGAINST RED RULE

By The Associated Press.
BERLIN, Tuesday, March 26.—The majority socialists in Prussia were obliged to join hands with the democrats and the centrists in forming the Prussian ministry today. The price of centrist support is the postponement of the settlement of the religious and educational questions.

PRUSSIAN OPPOSE GIVING UP ANY RHINE TERRITORY

PARIS, March 26.—The Prussian national assembly has voted unanimously against the relinquishment of German territory in the Rhine basin, especially the Saare basin, according to German dispatches. The assembly also voted to protest against the proposed partitioning of the Rhine basin into French and German parts.

Negroes Are Candidates.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

ANDREW AND IMOGENE

"ANDREW, you will have to increase my household allowance," Imogene looked up from some figures she was making on a pad.

"I heard you the first time you said it," replied Andrew.

"Why, that was the first time I said it," said Imogene.

"No," replied Andrew, "you said it day before yesterday, you said it week before last, you said it two months before that, and all the way back into the past you have said it and I have come across. Why 20 years ago we—"

"Oh, please!" pleaded Imogene. "Please do not start that talk about 20 years ago."

"I don't know all about 20 years ago. I also was alive at the time. Jules Verne was the only man who knew anything about submarines 20 years ago. Nobody had appendicitis or flu 20 years ago, and when a doctor came to see you he made you stick out your tongue, instead of putting a five-inch thermometer in your mouth."

"Twenty years ago people shined files, instead of swathing them, and I wore a bustle."

"Twenty years ago a flapper was a thing which didn't work, and now a flapper is a thing which does work and no man has a livery-bill any more."

"Nobody ever had an operation; it was just simply a thing which was never done and nobody ever heard of a pair of white shoes."

"Twenty years ago no one knew whether golf was an African animal or a croquet stitch and there was no such thing as being disgraced by hanging around a nineteenth hole."

"Twenty years ago every drug store had a milkshake apparatus and sundae was a misspelled Sabbath."

"Twenty years ago cream was 5 cents a pint and nobody cared whether gasoline was 10 cents a gallon or $10, for it was only used in the torches at the circus."

"Nobody ever bothered about advertisers telling the truth, because they never did, and there was a patent medicine for every ailment to which the human body is heir."

"Every farmer drove into town for his mail and house girls got $2 a week and were thankful and respectful."

"There was no 'safe and sane' Fourth of July, and the butcher gave you all the liver you wanted as lamb chops."

"There were no underground railroads and no pneumatic tires and girls on the stage had to wear clothes."

"There was no such thing as a skirt slit up the back, for they hadn't even slit 'em up the side yet."

"All these things are changes of the last 20 years and you know it, and I know it and you are not to talk to me any more about three pounds of pork for a quarter, for it can't be done, and you had just as well raise my allowance now as later, for I simply have to have it. Kid curiers cost a quarter where they used to be 5 cents, and you can't get a hair net for less than 15 cents, where they used to be 5 cents anywhere."

"Oh, my dear!" said Andrew. "I did not realize that these staples of life had gone up so high. Hair nets and kid curiers? Why I thought you were talking about silly, extravagant things, like lard and beef and stuff like that."

"Certainly you get your raise, but there is one thing I'd like to ask you about."

"Yes?" questioned Imogene.

"It is about those kid curiers when we have no kids to curt?"

She did not design to answer.

(Copyright, 1919, Twenty-First Century Press, Inc.)

CHICAGO, March 26.—Declaring that there is only one league of nations constitution before the world and that people must accept this or nothing, Senator G. M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, formerly chairman of the committee on foreign relations, paused a moment in his speech to the association of commerce today and added:

"We need not deceive ourselves with foolish hopes that wars will naturally cease," Senator Hitchcock said. "Experience has shown that they come whether nations are barbarous or civilized, Christian or pagan, educated or illiterate."

"They will continue in the future as they have in the past unless nations unite in a plan to avoid them for the first time in history nations are making an effort to do this."

"Will the efforts of the men at Paris succeed or fail? The answer is of tremendous importance to the world who must furnish soldiers if they do fail. It is of great importance to taxpayers. If the league is not formed, the peace at Paris will be only a truce and every nation will resume war preparations on a larger scale than ever. Taxes in the United States to cover the preparations would run into hundreds of millions of dollars a year. Most of this burden would be in the form of taxes on incomes and business profits."

Conference Not Academic.

Prohibition has knocked out several hundred million dollars a year of government revenue and public sentiment probably will never again submit to the old practice of raising the bulk of the revenue by taxes on the consumer, no matter how they are levied. This may be a cold-blooded way of looking at the question, but I wish to make it plain that the Paris conference is not entirely academic but affects us all tremendously."

"Perhaps the establishment of a league of nations never was possible before. A great change, however, has come over the world. In the past the world has been cursed by autocratic governments bent on conquest."

"Now, however, the nations of the world have become, or by our aid may become, largely democratic. It should be comparatively simple for them to make an agreement to establish international peace based on justice."

"This is the effort now being made at Paris. America leads. Her representatives are devoting their energies to securing for humanity the great boon of a world free from future wars. In this historic effort the leader is the American president, Woodrow Wilson."

"Shall we support this effort to reestablish peace? Already opposition is strongly developed. Considering these objections it was first said the league would be a sort of super-nation with a great standing army and navy capable of destroying any particular nation. This objection disappeared as soon as the league constitution was published."

"Second, the objection was made that the United States surrendered a part of its sovereignty. Considering these objections it was first said the league would be a sort of super-nation with a great standing army and navy capable of destroying any particular nation. This objection disappeared as soon as the league constitution was published."

"Third, objection has been made that the United States abandoned the Monroe doctrine. How can this doctrine be abandoned by joining a league which promises to put a stop to aggression by force against every nation, including those in America?"

"Fourth, objection has been made that British self-governing colonies, like Canada and Australia, may be admitted to the league which it is claimed would give Great Britain give more to one man. If it were true it would not matter because all important questions must be decided by unanimous vote. Also these countries are now almost completely independent of Great Britain and Canada especially, has many interests in common with the United States."

"Fifth, it has been objected that Japan might insist on having the league settle the immigration question and through the league force us to admit Japanese. If she could she could also force us to change our laws of marriage and divorce taxation or any other domestic question. The league, however, deals only in international questions and has no relations in domestic affairs."

"I feel that these objections will be brushed aside and that men will meet the big issue squarely. Our answer must be 'yes' or 'no' and I am sure there is but one correct answer, and that is 'yes.'"

"I believe that the people of the world will accept the league as it has been proposed in Paris because they must realize the promises the nations make to each other will act as an effective preventive of war."

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—Heinrich von Eckhardt, former German minister to Mexico, his wife and three children, and Johannes Legation, counselor of the German Legation at Mexico City and formerly consul at St. Paul, Minn., sailed today on the Holland-American liner Nieuw Amsterdam under a safe conduct granted by the American and allied governments. The party will go to Germany from Rotterdam.

The envoy, recalled by the Berlin government last December because of his connection with anti-American propaganda in Mexico, departed expressing his "gratitude to the United States for obtaining for him immunity from arrest on the way home and his appreciation of 'your' justice extended by American officials," particularly the department of justice representatives in Texas, where he entered the country, and in New York.

Heinrich von Eckhardt took with him $50,000 in American currency and 27 pieces of baggage whose contents customs officials examined minutely.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 26.—As a result of charges originally made against President John P. Furrill by members of the student body at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, the board of trustees at a meeting Tuesday night exonerated President Furrill, expelled 24 students, suspended six and requested the immediate resignation of one member of the faculty.

Agitation against Furrill in the "N-Ray," the university organ, caused the investigation and resultant action of the board.

Pioneer Newspaper Man Dies.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Frederick H. Hall, pioneer newspaper man, died at his residence here last night. Mr. Hall came to Chicago after the civil war with Charles A. Dana and for 22 years was city editor of the Chicago Tribune. Thereafter he became an editorial writer on the paper. Ten years ago he retired. When the civil war started he was cipher expert for Secretary of War S. M. Stanton and at the trial of Mrs. Surratt following the assassination of President Lincoln he was a witness relating to ciphers found in her possession.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

ADOPT LEAGUE OR PAY
HEAVY WAR DAMAGES

Senator Hitchcock in Chicago Address Says Country Faces Alternative and Must Decide.

SAYS OBJECTIONS FUTILE

All Brushed Aside When Thoroughly Examined, Says Democratic Leader Advocating Pact.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Declaring that there is only one league of nations constitution before the world and that people must accept this or nothing, Senator G. M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, formerly chairman of the committee on foreign relations, paused a moment in his speech to the association of commerce today and added:

"We need not deceive ourselves with foolish hopes that wars will naturally cease," Senator Hitchcock said. "Experience has shown that they come whether nations are barbarous or civilized, Christian or pagan, educated or illiterate."

"They will continue in the future as they have in the past unless nations unite in a plan to avoid them for the first time in history nations are making an effort to do this."

"Will the efforts of the men at Paris succeed or fail? The answer is of tremendous importance to the world who must furnish soldiers if they do fail. It is of great importance to taxpayers. If the league is not formed, the peace at Paris will be only a truce and every nation will resume war preparations on a larger scale than ever. Taxes in the United States to cover the preparations would run into hundreds of millions of dollars a year. Most of this burden would be in the form of taxes on incomes and business profits."

Prohibition has knocked out several hundred million dollars a year of government revenue and public sentiment probably will never again submit to the old practice of raising the bulk of the revenue by taxes on the consumer, no matter how they are levied. This may be a cold-blooded way of looking at the question, but I wish to make it plain that the Paris conference is not entirely academic but affects us all tremendously."

"Perhaps the establishment of a league of nations never was possible before. A great change, however, has come over the world. In the past the world has been cursed by autocratic governments bent on conquest."

"Now, however, the nations of the world have become, or by our aid may become, largely democratic. It should be comparatively simple for them to make an agreement to establish international peace based on justice."

"This is the effort now being made at Paris. America leads. Her representatives are devoting their energies to securing for humanity the great boon of a world free from future wars. In this historic effort the leader is the American president, Woodrow Wilson."

"Shall we support this effort to reestablish peace? Already opposition is strongly developed. Considering these objections it was first said the league would be a sort of super-nation with a great standing army and navy capable of destroying any particular nation. This objection disappeared as soon as the league constitution was published."

"Second, the objection was made that the United States surrendered a part of its sovereignty. Considering these objections it was first said the league would be a sort of super-nation with a great standing army and navy capable of destroying any particular nation. This objection disappeared as soon as the league constitution was published."

"Third, objection has been made that the United States abandoned the Monroe doctrine. How can this doctrine be abandoned by joining a league which promises to put a stop to aggression by force against every nation, including those in America?"

"Fourth, objection has been made that British self-governing colonies, like Canada and Australia, may be admitted to the league which it is claimed would give Great Britain give more to one man. If it were true it would not matter because all important questions must be decided by unanimous vote. Also these countries are now almost completely independent of Great Britain and Canada especially, has many interests in common with the United States."

"Fifth, it has been objected that Japan might insist on having the league settle the immigration question and through the league force us to admit Japanese. If she could she could also force us to change our laws of marriage and divorce taxation or any other domestic question. The league, however, deals only in international questions and has no relations in domestic affairs."

"I feel that these objections will be brushed aside and that men will meet the big issue squarely. Our answer must be 'yes' or 'no' and I am sure there is but one correct answer, and that is 'yes.'"

"I believe that the people of the world will accept the league as it has been proposed in Paris because they must realize the promises the nations make to each other will act as an effective preventive of war."

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—Heinrich von Eckhardt, former German minister to Mexico, his wife and three children, and Johannes Legation, counselor of the German Legation at Mexico City and formerly consul at St. Paul, Minn., sailed today on the Holland-American liner Nieuw Amsterdam under a safe conduct granted by the American and allied governments. The party will go to Germany from Rotterdam.

The envoy, recalled by the Berlin government last December because of his connection with anti-American propaganda in Mexico, departed expressing his "gratitude to the United States for obtaining for him immunity from arrest on the way home and his appreciation of 'your' justice extended by American officials," particularly the department of justice representatives in Texas, where he entered the country, and in New York.

Heinrich von Eckhardt took with him $50,000 in American currency and 27 pieces of baggage whose contents customs officials examined minutely.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 26.—As a result of charges originally made against President John P. Furrill by members of the student body at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, the board of trustees at a meeting Tuesday night exonerated President Furrill, expelled 24 students, suspended six and requested the immediate resignation of one member of the faculty.

Agitation against Furrill in the "N-Ray," the university organ, caused the investigation and resultant action of the board.

Pioneer Newspaper Man Dies.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Frederick H. Hall, pioneer newspaper man, died at his residence here last night. Mr. Hall came to Chicago after the civil war with Charles A. Dana and for 22 years was city editor of the Chicago Tribune. Thereafter he became an editorial writer on the paper. Ten years ago he retired. When the civil war started he was cipher expert for Secretary of War S. M. Stanton and at the trial of Mrs. Surratt following the assassination of President Lincoln he was a witness relating to ciphers found in her possession.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "Twenty-Century Voters' club," a negro organization, candidates were selected for mayor, commissioner of public safety and commissioner of public works.

OKLAHOMA, March 26.—For the first time in many years negroes will be candidates in the primary next month to fill offices in the municipal government here. At a meeting last night of the "